Employee Benefits Policy

Health Insurance

The company provides eligible full-time employees with access to medical, dental, and vision insurance plans.

Employees become eligible for health insurance benefits after 30 calendar days of continuous employment.

The company contributes toward the monthly medical insurance premium. Employees are responsible for their elected share of the premium through payroll deductions.

Employees may add eligible dependents during enrollment or following a qualifying life event.

Dental and Vision Benefits

Eligible employees can enroll in dental and vision insurance.

Dental coverage includes preventive examinations and other services according to the selected insurance plan.

Vision coverage may include annual eye examinations and allowances for prescription glasses or contact lenses.

Coverage details and annual limits are defined by the applicable insurance plan documents.

Retirement Benefits

Eligible employees may participate in the company's retirement savings plan.

Employees can elect a contribution percentage through the benefits enrollment system.

The company may provide matching contributions according to the current plan rules.

Employees should consult the retirement plan documentation for vesting schedules, contribution limits, and withdrawal rules.

Benefits Enrollment

New employees must complete benefits enrollment within 30 calendar days of their eligibility date.

Employees may review or update their benefit elections during the annual open enrollment period.

Qualifying life events may allow changes outside the annual enrollment period, subject to plan requirements.
